Organizational Transitions

Transitions Across Different Levels of the Organizations

Impact of Transitions on Organizations

"Remaining staff have felt stretched to hold those spaces while we hire. Hiring has been difficult due to [the] low wages our positions offer. [Staff transitions] also [have an] impact of staff morale."

"Although our transition is low, it has a huge impact involving recruiting and training due to our unique programs in the area of infrastructure and affordable housing. Our success is based on establishing trusting relationships with the community. Transitions impact the building trust process."

-Community Advisors

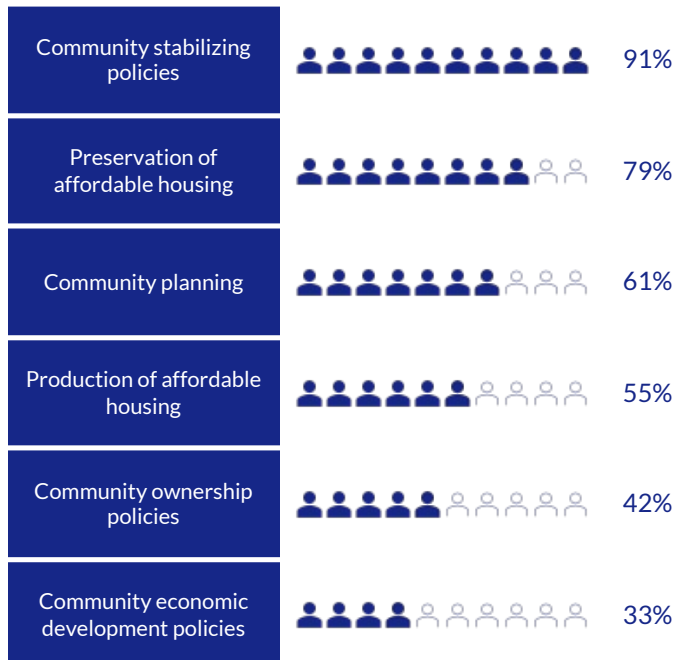

Community Advisors reported less transitions at the senior level compared to staff transitions.

- Over half of Community Advisors (58%) shared that they did not experience any transitions among their senior leadership teams in the last year.
- Transitions at the staff level varied with 24% reporting they experienced no transitions, 27% reported 1% - 10% or 11% - 20%, and 21% reported having 21% or more turn over at the staff level.

Strategies for Systemic & Transformative Change*

F4ICA Outcomes

Strengthen organizational capacity

Strengthen the organizational capacity of core base-building organizations, coalitions and alliances working to advance and implement community-driven solutions.

Grow a bigger "we"

Grow the "we" of the housing justice movement by supporting organizing groups with an intersectional approach as well as emerging organizing efforts.

Strengthen organizing infrastructure

Strengthen the organizing infrastructure across California by facilitating collaboration in and across regions and issue areas, and by supporting local organizations to play a more active role in state-level advocacy and civic engagement efforts.

Elevate a vision of community-driven development

Elevate the vision of community-driven development, one in which low-income communities and communities of color are empowered to shape what sustainable development looks like in their local neighborhoods.

Model equity-driven practices

Model equity-driven collaborative philanthropic practices that are rooted in racial and economic justice by creating a learning community to catalyze increased philanthropic funding for power-building organizations.

Funding from the F4ICA has helped Community Advisors maximize their housing justice efforts across the state.

- All Community Advisors agreed that the funding has increased the advocacy skills of base members.
- Community Advisors reported that the funding and support received from the F4ICA has been the least helpful in increasing their base membership.

Contributions of the F4ICA

"F4ICA plays a key role in our ecosystem because it convenes partners regionally and statewide for cross-movement conversations and understands that for our collective work to move forward effectively, support is needed for individual organizations and for shared coalition work. We greatly appreciate that the F4ICA trusts all the partners to prioritize base-building and systems change."

"The multi-year support allowed us to have the confidence to hire additional staff. The additional organizing staff capacity allowed us to increase our ability to build deeper and wider leadership base in multiple districts and cities, as well as grow our collective power to push campaigns forward and policies."

"The partnership with F4ICA has assisted us not only to leverage additional financial resources to do our organizing and power building work but is has also created a space of partners that all work together for a similar vision. It is very difficult to secure funding for community organizing and power building work, F4ICA's financial support has been very important for us to continue with our mission and vision."
